How to make most money on bitlife

BitLife is a video game that lets you live the life of your dreams. Every day, you make choices that determine what happens next. Will you go to college? Get married? Have kids? And who will your friends be in the end, and how much time do they spend with you. BitLife is a game about life. If you want to know how to become President in BitLife, then this blog post is for you! We cover all the steps required to achieve ultimate power and watch it grow bigger than ever before. In BitLife, players can get into many different careers. Some of these are career paths, like firefighter or doctor; others can be professions where you start at the bottom and work your way up to the top, like business or politics. President in BitLife is the highest level you can achieve in this game. It's well known to be one of the most challenging, but it certainly has its benefits too! The main benefit of being President in BitLife is that your decisions actually affect how fast you climb up on top. If you are interested in becoming the President of BitLife, then read our guide on how to become President in BitLife. Also Useful: How to Become an Actor in BitLife? BitLife - A Quick Introduction BitLife is a game in which you can live like real life. It was developed by CandyWriter LLC and released in 2018. It is available for Android and iOS. The player is a newly born baby in the game. Every decision you make will lead your character to success or failure. You can live as many lives as possible, but with every life comes an end. You have one chance for each playthrough, and if that ends badly, then it's over! This simulation game is different from other games because it actually calculates your life. You can live in many different ways and make decisions that will affect how long you'll live, what job you'll have, who your friends are, where you're living at the end of your life (and more). For example, you could become President of the United States, or you could become homeless. The possibilities are endless! Even if you fail a playthrough, your character will have the chance to see how things would go in their lives had they made different decisions. After all of this information, do you want to know how to become President in BitLife? Then keep reading our blog post! We've got everything from tips for being President and what it takes to become President in BitLife. So, without further ado, let's get into the guide! Requirements for Becoming President in BitLife Becoming President in BitLife is not an easy task. There are many requirements you must meet before even thinking about running for office. Let's first go over the basics of who can become President, and then we'll look at each requirement individually to see what they do exactly. All players have access to this option to become President in BitLife. The requirements are as follows: The first requirement is that you need to be at least 35 years of age if you want to become United States President. The second requirement is that you need to get Citizenship. If you don't, then this job will not even show up for you! The third requirement is that you need to pay $4.99 USD to become President. The fourth requirement is that you need to run for office. The fifth requirement is that you need to work hard for money in order to run for office and pay off the required bribe amount. The sixth requirement is that you need to be popular. The seventh requirement is that you need high smarts and looks; these both affect your chances of winning the election. If all of these requirements are met, then congratulations! You can now become President in BitLife by following our guide on how to become President in BitLife! Also Related: How to Become a Singer in BitLife? How to Become President in BitLife? BitLife is a game in which you can live your dream life, and if you want to become President in BitLife, then you'll have to do it the right way. This means starting at the bottom and working your way up. If you are really interested in becoming President of BitLife, then here's what you're going to need: First off, you'll need to start in a country like Mexico or the United States since those countries have elections. You then want to go through school and get as smart as possible (and if you can't focus on your grades, try working out at the gym). Then, focus on getting good looks by going to the movies and wearing nice clothes. Now, once you're all grown up, you need to begin plotting your way into politics. This means after graduating from high school, you can either go to University or become a politician. As you need some money to do all this, you can go to college for something like Political Science, English or History. Then transfer over into Business or Law school after this is done. That way, you'll be able to get a free ride the entire time, and by doing so, your bank account will have some money in it too! The money helps because you will have to finance your own run for office. So, if you have more of it, you will be able to throw more into the campaign! Networking is also key for this, so you'll need to spend time at parties with people who are involved in politics or may know someone. This way, they can help out with your campaign! Start out as a School Board Director or the lowest political job in your country. You need to gather up at least $10000 and use that for your run. After doing this, if somehow you don't get on the ballot, then you can immediately exit the game and close it fully! This should allow you to recuperate your money. Once you get on the ballot, you'll need to go through all of your options and figure out what will work. If something isn't working, then try another approach until it does! Observe the Approval Ratings of your campaign. If they are low, then focus on one thing at a time until it goes up! Make sure you're running on the right things too. If people aren't happy about something, use that as your agenda for what to run with next term! All in all, once you get into office, you will need to make sure that your approval ratings are high. This means coming through on campaign promises and doing what's right! Headlines can also help out a ton too, so keep an eye on those every now and then to see what's going on in the news. Make a speech based on it if you can. Your Agenda is the most important part of raising your approval ratings, so make sure to keep an eye on things! Monitor how stressed you are and try to stay in orange (or below). If not, then take some time out for yourself or go work out at the gym again like earlier. Join Social Media when you get a position; this way, you're going to need to take advantage of fame which will get you quite a bit of money. You'll want this for your Presidential run! Posts are important; make sure to do them at least a few times every year. If you can't focus on the posts, then try working out again! Once you do get fame, leave all of the options available while elected because if you do them, they can get you impeached. If you have over at least 10000 followers, then you can try to get verified. Once your job as a school board director is up, you can run for mayor. Do the same thing and work your way towards fame and money by doing commercials or writing books. At the time you're earning over a million for commercials, you can then try to get into the Senate. If you have enough money and fame, then try running for President. This will be the hardest thing to do, though! (Gather up at least in the five to eight million areas before trying to become President.) Make sure you keep an eye on your approval ratings while running for President because it's going to be tough, especially when there are a lot of other people involved in this race too! Your agenda is going to need to be working on things that are important. If you have a lot of money, then you can just finance everything for the campaign yourself too! All in all, once you get into office, you will need to make sure that your approval ratings are high. This means coming through on campaign promises and doing what's right! Note: If somehow you don't get the ticket, then you can exit the game again and re-open it. My best advice is to keep trying and be underhanded if you can. This isn't always going to work, though, so it's mostly about luck! Also Check: How to Rob a Train in BitLife? Frequently Asked Questions No, you cannot become the President of the United States if you are not 35 years old. Also, different countries have different age limits. So, look for the age limits of your country before playing BitLife. No, you cannot become the President of your country while being in prison. Your approval rating will be too low, and it is nearly impossible to get out of jail once you are placed there for a crime or neglecting bills. So, make sure that this doesn't happen before playing BitLife! Yes, it is important for you to be smart and look good in front of people. If your intelligence level drops too much, then nobody will vote for you. There are several other factors that determine how well known or liked a person is by others, like height, weight, skin color, etc. So make sure this doesn't happen before playing BitLife! If people are not voting for you, then try to improve your approval ratings. This is because they don't know who you are, or they think that your stance on certain issues doesn't matter. So, this will require improving yourself and then running for elections again! There is no one-size-fits-all answer when it comes to becoming President. However, some of the best things you can do include making sure that your approval ratings are high, coming up with a good agenda, and having lots of money so you can finance your own campaign. There are a few things you will want to avoid doing if you want to become President. This includes getting caught in a scandal, having low approval ratings, and not following through on campaign promises. So, make sure that you are aware of these things before playing BitLife!
